

Lisa Nichols

Lisa Nichols is the CEO and co-founder of Technology Partners, a Women-Business Enterprise and provider of premier IT staffing, solutions and software. Lisa and her husband Greg founded Technology Partners in 1994 driven by their passion to revolutionize the staffing industry with their transparent business model. They co-lead the business today. Greg and Lisa have made it their priority from day one, to create mutual wins for their employees, clients and the communities in which Technology Partners operates. This has, in large part, led to Technology Partners winning the 2019 Top Workplaces.

Technology Partners' 360 Degree IT services include: Scalable Workforces, IT Staffing, Custom Mobile and Web Applications and many other services.

Lisa devotes her time to many professional and philanthropic organizations including CEO Forum, as well as YPO Christian Fellowship network, the St. Louis Independence Center, YWCA and United Way.

Lisa's most recent project is her podcast, "Something Extra" produced by Technology Partners. She interviews leaders from around the world and across the for profit and non-profit spaces.