Message from the Board Chair

Dear Friends,

Fifteen years ago, seven communities of Catholic sisters and several lay women had a vision. They sought to establish a school that would alter the lives of girls from low-income backgrounds and their families by providing a quality, faith-based education in a private school setting. Their goal was to provide the knowledge and resources necessary to break the cycle of poverty for families in the St. Louis community. Thanks to their vision and supporters like you who believe in their vision, Marian Middle School became a reality.

During the 2014-2015 school year, Marian Middle School's 15th school year, 76 urban adolescent girls received a life-altering education. These girls received a quality education through the Academic Program and enriching extra-curricular activities through the Enrichment Program. An additional 65 young women received academic, social, and financial support through the Graduate Support Program. All this is possible because of your belief in our mission.

Support from donors like you provided 94 percent of our school's funding during this anniversary year. Without you, fifth grader Adrienne would not have made more than three years of reading growth and 12 young ladies would not have graduated from high school in May. You are making a difference in so many lives by being a part of the Marian Middle School family.

The 2015-2016 school year will bring many changes. New staff members, including a new principal, and new goals. We look forward with great faith and enthusiasm to all the changes in store for our school. Thank you for supporting Marian Middle School's mission to break the cycle of poverty. Together, we are Educating Girls for Life!

Sincerely,

Craig Hunt

Message from the President

To the Marian community:

What an incredible year it's been! Marian Middle School celebrated a milestone this school year: 15 years of Educating Girls for Life! Since Marian opened its doors to 14 fifth and sixth grade girls on July 31, 2000, several transformations have taken place. The school moved from the top floor of the former St. Anthony of Padua High School building to our current home in the former Holy Family Grade School on Wyoming Street. What started out as a vision to offer a life-altering education for middle school girls in underserved communities has become a pathway of opportunity for them and their families. Our enrollment of 76 students at Marian during the 2014-2015 school year put us close to our capacity of 80. We also had 65 Marian alums in high school and 59 alums in college! The vision of our founding communities is still in motion.

During this anniversary year, our school-wide theme was Transformation. Students explored the theme by discussing the following terms: Self Aware, Self Determining, Self Advocating, and Self Giving. Throughout this report, some of our eighth graders express their own transformations since becoming Marian girls.

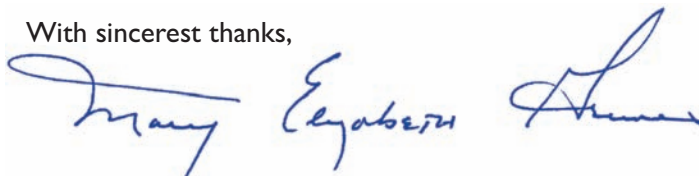

Join me in celebrating a few of the milestones and achievements that took place this year:

- Sister Sarah Heger, CSJ, became vice principal this school year, while still serving as fifth grade teacher.
- All 20 eighth grade students graduated in May and will attend high school in the fall.
- All 12 seniors graduated from high school and will attend college in the fall.
- The Robians, Marian Middle School's robotics team, placed fourth overall in a regional competition and they were nominated for the Teamwork Award.
- Sister Sarah received a Peabody Energy Leaders in Education award for inspiring, guiding, teaching, and leading her students.
- Fifth grader Jalila wrote an essay about adversity and it was published in the 24th volume of The Courage of Children.

All of these achievements could not have been accomplished without generous supporters like you. You allow Marian Middle School to be a beacon of hope for girls from low-income backgrounds and their families. Thank you for supporting our mission to break the cycle of poverty by Educating Girls for Life!

With sincerest thanks,

Mary Elizabeth Grimes

Message from the Principal

Greetings from the hallways of Marian Middle School!

Every day this past academic year, our morning assembly started with our student body chanting: "Working to be who God made me." Our students came up with that jingle on the first day of school. It's been a daily reminder of our school's mission: to be a part of God's transformative work through the education of girls. It's a mission that is close to my heart and I know, close to yours as well.

Marian Middle School's 15th school year was a transformative year and it ended with the graduation of 20 young women from eighth grade. These young ladies will attend 10 different high schools throughout the St. Louis metro area. As I watched them walk down the aisle at St. Pius V Catholic Church, ready to move on to a new stage in life, I was struck by the transformations that I've seen. One example is Mariel, a young woman I first met as a shy fifth grader. Like many of our students, Mariel came to our doors with both amazing potential and some academic gaps in knowledge. Initial reading tests showed her to be reading at a second grade level, three grade levels below where she should be performing. A small school, lots of individual help, supportive family, and plenty of hard work were the keys to her success—nothing innovative or magical, just all the things we know work about Catholic education. Her confidence grew, as did her skills, and she earned a 3.61 GPA her eighth grade year. On graduation evening, she looked stunning in a simple, pink dress, with her proud parents and eight year old sister behind her. She walked confidently to the altar of the church, where she delivered a prayer in Spanish in front of a crowd of more than one hundred supporters. She's off to Bishop DuBourg High School in August, with many more graduations to come.

We saw another transformation this year in the mother of one of our graduates. Christine Schone was a faithful volunteer while her daughter, Alexis, attended Marian. Ms. Schone proclaims that Marian showed both her and her daughter the value of education and encouraged her to aspire for more. This encouragement gave Ms. Schone the inspiration she needed to go back to school and earn a college degree. She recently graduated from Harris-Stowe State University with a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice degree. That's the power of an educated woman—a wage earner for her family, a role model for her daughter, and a leader who will make a positive contribution to our city through her work in criminal justice. We're proud of Alexis, who is earning a 3.5 GPA at Bishop DuBourg High School, and even more proud of the impact Marian has had on her entire family.

We are so grateful that you have been a part of our work. Your support transforms lives, and I've been blessed to be a witness to countless transformations over the last 10 years. On behalf of all our Marian Middle School students, families, and staff, thank you!

In gratitude,

Christy Toben

Invest in Her Future

Marian Middle School families commit to supporting students based on their financial capacity. The typical family pays $400 annually. However, the actual cost of educating one Marian student is more than $12,000. It is through the generosity of our donors that we are able to succeed in our mission to break the cycle of poverty by Educating Girls for Life.

Marian taught me to self advocate and ask for help when I need it.

– Jamison, MMS Class of 2015

I am self determined to create a bright future for myself and to become who God wants me to be.

– Asia, MMS Class of 2015

Marian has allowed me to become a beautiful, confident, smart, and strong young lady.

– Taylor, MMS Class of 2015

Thank you TO OUR DONORS!

Presenting Sponsor:

Award of Excellence Honorees:

Bellwether Foundation and John & Joan Vatterott

"Joe and I have been involved with Marian Magic since it was first held in a school cafeteria. It has grown above and beyond our expectations as has the school. One of the best parts of this event from the beginning has been the participation of the students either by greeting the guests, making an auction item, or selling raffle tickets. It means so very much to us that they are there and engaging with adults that they do not know with confidence and poise beyond their years. The financial rewards from the auction every year mean so much to their futures. By being there and seeing the "magic," both our guests and students understand all the good that comes from this event each year. It's always a very fun night!" — Diane Garea
